Who We Are

Ian K. Brown BSc.(hons) PGCE

Has worked in education for over 25 years as a Deputy Head Teacher responsible for the development and promotion of the Community dimension of South Tynedale Middle School. Within this role he has experienced making films since 1986. Films have been made to support the curriculum, for teacher training and for school information films. Special events within both the School and the Community have been recorded and opportunities have been created for pupils and young people to plan, produce and make films.

Matthew J. Brown BSc.(hons)

Is a graduate in Film Production Technology at Staffordshire University. As well as having a long time passion for film making and the film industry, he is a skilled user of state of the art equipment and is an experienced film editor. He has produced a wide range of films including music videos for bands and individuals, an information film about a secure training unit for violent teenagers and a dramatic short film about the dangers of the modern social scene which was shown at a film festival.
